Project Historical Ontology of Urban Space

(project no. PPI/APM/2019/1/00053/U/00001)

Workshop #2: Sources and #urbanonto building

September 28-30, 2020, Online

Day 1 (September 28): 2:30pm-6:00pm (Warsaw time)

Invited lectures on archaeological sources and research on urban space and discussion

Day 2 (September 29): 2:30pm-6:00pm (Warsaw time)

Invited lectures on the project "Place Warszawy" ("Squares of Warsaw")

Workshop: discussion on ontology building, notions: square, street, park, garden

Participants: project partners, audience, and invited guests

Day 3 (September 30): 2:30pm-6:00pm (Warsaw time)

Workshop: discussion on ontology building, notions: harbour, chapel, school, industry

Participants: project partners

Workflow:

We invite you to put your proposal of definition for some of above mentioned notions (harbour, chapel, school, industry, street, park, garden, square) into a form we elaborated to build the #urbanonto system. The form is a simple chart with two columns and a short instruction at the very beginning of the file. We want to ask all participants to read all prepared definitions before the workshop and to be ready for a discussion during the workshop. We want to elaborate together eight “golden definitions” of some notions necessary to build a #urbanonto model. Interested in the experiment? Just give us a sign with sending an application form before the deadline (September 2, 2020) on urbanonto@ihpan.edu.pl and start elaborating chart with definitions. We will confirm participation till Friday, September 4, 2020. We will ask to send us a file with proposals of definitions on urbanonto@ihpan.edu.pl before September 20, 2020. We will share these proposals among all participants by uploading anonymous charts online, so that everybody can read them.

Deadline for applications: September 2 (Wednesday), 2020.

Deadline for submitting definitions is September 20 (Sunday), 2020.

Full programme, including names of participants, who are working on definitions, will be available on September 9, 2020.
